

Ragged prose

The first line runs the whole width of the measure and then stops here.

A shorter second line.

Three words.

The fourth line is long again, so the ragged edge above it has somewhere to be, and the space beside it belongs to no span until padRows runs.

After a wide blank

This heading sits below 130 points of nothing, which is where the vertical padding is largest and any error in it is largest too.

First entry

Second entry

Third entry

Fourth entry

Fourteen

Twenty one

Three

Eight

Large label

and a caption beside it, set much smaller

A last line, well clear of everything above it.